In his calling he was an aristocrat. He was known as a nephew of Frankin Pierce, once President of the United States. "Old Hi" died at 72, poor and homeless. In his time he had placed his thousands on a horse, or on a man, or on a hand in poker, a whirl of the roulette ball, or a turn in fare, and had ounted his gains in six figures.

His end came Wednesday night in St. Vincent's Hospital. From Broadway he had drifted to the Howery and a week age he became helpless from cameer and other troubles in a lodging-house in the latter thoroughfare. He was sent to the hospital by Senator Timothy D. Sullivan and other old friends, who will see that he is decently buried.

Pierce came from the bluest blood of New England. He was related to the Longs, the Hoars and the Adamses. He was born in Quitey, Mass., in 1928, and when a young man became noted for his wild ways. He went to New Orleans before the war and became one of the gamblers of the Mississippi River boats. He prospered and finally opened a gambling-house in New Orleans. He was known as a man of fron nerve and strong play.

Meanwhile he had married, and five children had been born to his wife, a Southern woman. His family was kept in knowned of his calling, and when his children were pearing maturity he brought them to New was to-day officially notified of his second nomination by the Republican party for the highest office in the gift of the Republic. There was enthusiasm enough and to spare, and to many of the pointed utter ances of both Senator Lodge and the President there was hearty and cordial approval shown. Important features of the speech of notification by Senator Lodge and the response by President McKinley were the ref-rences to the Chinese situation.

This caused a great deal of discussion during the conferences following the formal speechmaking, and the impression created was that these utterances were a notifica-tion to the worlud that the United States intended to preserve all their right in China.

The committee, headed by Schators Hanna and Lodge, came from Cieveland on a special train and marched directly to the McKin-ley home.

Sepator Lodge and others conferred a few minutes with the President. Then returning to the porch the notification ceremony was begun.

SENATOR LODGE'S ADDRESS.

Senator Lodge said: "Mr. President: This committee, repre senting every State in the Union, and the organized Territories of the United States, was duly appointed to announce to you, formally, your nomination by the Republican National Convention, which met in Phila-delphia on June 19 last, as the candidate of the Republican party for President of the TAKES PLACE THIS MORNING.
